“HUMOR” HAS IT: STROKE SURVIVORS UP FOR NIGHT OF COMEDY

Stroke Life Society Holds Fundraiser at Governor’s

East Meadow, NY, - April 18, 2012 Back by popular demand, Stroke Life Society, the East Meadow based, nonprofit organization, will be holding their Second Annual Fundraiser on Wednesday, May 9, at Governor’s Comedy Shop in Levittown.

Stroke Life Society’s last comedy event, a big hit with stroke survivors, their families and friends, packed the house to capacity and left guests a little more lighthearted than when they arrived. “You need not be a stroke survivor, or even know someone who is, to attend,” says Darleen Schauder, co-founder of Stroke Life Society, “the only requirement is that you are there to have fun.” So grab some friends, break up your week, and make your Wednesday feel like a Friday!

A ticket donation is $20, and is 100% tax deductible; Governor’s requires a two-drink minimum. Tickets MUST BE purchased in advance through www.strokelife.org or by calling 516-946-1548.

For those interested in taking chances on baskets full of goodies (donated by local merchants), door prizes and their 50/50 raffle, doors will open at 6:30. The comedians will start promptly at 8:00.

Co- founders Darlene Schauder and stroke survivor Ben Thomas urge you to visit their website www.strokelife.org if you or someone you know may benefit from their support. All donations are given directly to help stroke survivors, and no donation is too large or too small. Stroke Life Society, “United in Pursuit of Living and Helping Others” is a 501(c) (3) nonprofit organization helping stroke survivors and co-survivors through support meetings and companionship at convenient locations.
